Educational.

The Franklin Teachers' Association and social picnic, on last Saturday, was a day long to be remembered by the citizens of Flat Creek. From the morning dawn until Sol's highest ascent in the meridian, all the leading avenues were jammed with baskets, dogs and boys, hurrying to the grounds prepared for the reception of guests.

The new building was soon filled to its utmost capacity with the sweetest human flowers that ever adorned a similar occasion.

As the great clock announced the hour of ten, all eyes were turned towards the south windows expecting the distinguished arrivals of Col. Hunter and Col. Ford, the patriot soldiers of public education.

The manager, seeing a sea of bright upturned faces expecting the curtain to rise, introduced Prof. Rufus Dinkle, who delivered a brilliant address, which teemed with thought and talent.

Superintendent Hunter spoke two hours, and not a sound or whisper was heard in that vast assembly.

He analyzed the past and present school system to the edification of all present. He demonstrated the weakness of our time-worn, moss-brained political enemies to Federal aid. His address shall live in the minds of this generation.

Doctor Wilson, the learned and gifted orator, delivered the closing address and also pronounced the final benediction.

A choir of trained singers rendered rich classical music with the organ.

By request of the patrons of the ROUNDABOUT, and through the courtesy of its editor, I append the names of the esteemed ladies who spread the sumptuous banquet:

Mrs. Elijah Brewer, Mrs. John Harrod, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Elijah Harrod, Mrs. William Harrod, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. Thomas Brewer, Mrs. Jennings Pulliam, Mrs. Nicholas Moore, Mrs. David Waits, Mrs. John R. Harrod, Mrs. John Blankenship and Miss Bettie Taylor.

We would earnestly urge upon parents to visit their schools. If there was more visiting there would be less grumbling.

We had the pleasure, last Monday, of being at the open of the City Schools. We found the superintendent, teachers and pupils at work. All seemed happy and contented.

One little bright-eyed girl gave Col. Ford, a good answer, last Monday. He was lecturing them on the necessity of being regular in their attendance—not to stay away even for company. The little girl spoke up and said, "We will bring our company with us." That is the way children. Take your company to school, and don't stay at home for any thing except sickness.

If you are an old teacher you have no business to teach as you did last year. You must teach better.

The liking or disliking of a subject depends upon the way it is taught.

The calmness of ignorance is stupidity, but the calmness of knowledge is God-like.

Children are like small necked bottles. If you pour in they are not filled, but if you put in a drop at a time you get something in after a time.

Teachers remember the "County Institute" meets the 27th. Come and bring your trustees and as many of your scholars as possible.

Remember the Educational Meeting at Pleasureville, on Saturday the 24th inst.

We are requested to publish and call the attention of parents and guardians to the following rules which govern the Frankfort City Schools:

"ARTICLE VIII.
"§ 2. The schools shall be opened daily for instruction, from Monday to Friday inclusive. The hours shall be as follows: From the first Monday in April to first Monday in November, from 8½ o'clock, a. m., to 2 p. m.; and from the first Monday in November to the first Monday in April, from 9 o'clock, a. m., to 2 o'clock, p. m., with a recess of fifteen minutes at 10 or half past 10 o'clock, a. m., and of thirty minutes at 12 m. In case of one short recess the school may be dismissed at 1:30.
* * * * *

"ARTICLE X.
"§ 2. No pupil shall be received or continued in the schools under the age of six years.
* * * * *

"§ 8. Any pupil who shall be absent four days in four consecutive weeks, shall be suspended by the Principal and shall not be readmitted except by order of the Trustees. No pupil shall be suspended when the absence is caused by sickness or special religious holidays."

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

The Nashville Students.

Fully two thousand people were at the State Capital last night, to listen to the concert tendered by the Original Nashville Students to the Tennessee Legislature and their friends. It is astonishing what pathos, what soul-stirring beauty dwells in the voice of these black-skinned songsters. By nature they are endowed with the soul of music, by culture this genius has been put under perfect control, and for melody, for sweetness of voice, for correct time, for expression of true vocal sentiment, their quaint, weird-like refrains brought back to memory visions of old plantation days, camp-meetings, break-downs, field and forests of our ante-bellum Sunny South.—Nashville World.

Opera House Sept. 15.

Messrs. W. J. and W. H. Lewis, of Belair Stock Farm, recently sold to Mr. W. A. Sanborn, of Sterling, Ills., their yearling filly Willetta, by Pretender, dam Lizzie Welch by son of Almont. She is a splendid young animal. The price, which was a good one, is private.

Mr. John B. Wallace, of Lexington, and Mr. W. J. Chinn, of this city, will sell a large and select lot of Jersey cattle, on Thursday, Sept. 15. These are some of the finest cattle of this breed in Kentucky, or indeed any where.

One Lived, the Other Died.

A woman formerly our slave is now our cook. About eighteen months ago she became sickly and had a cough and was confined to bed, and it was thought that she had consumption. The treatment by physicians failed to give relief. In December, 1884, a node or knot the size of a goose egg formed just above the pit of the stomach which when lanced discharged matter for 8 or 9 months. One of these also formed under her arm, and three on her back, which discharged matter for a considerable time. For six months of this time she was confined to the house and most of the time in bed. The stomach often refused food, by rejecting what she had eaten. She used a great deal of medicine, but failed to be cured. I bought one bottle of your B. B. B. (made in Atlanta) and gave it to her and she commenced to improve. I then bought and gave her three bottles more, and she continued to improve and in two months' time her cough had ceased, her constitution strengthened, appetite and digestion good, all discharges ceased, nodes or knots disappeared and she went to work apparently healthy and fattened up greatly. This woman had a married sister of near same age who was affected in precisely the same way and about the same time. She had a node or knot on pit of stomach, back, etc. She did not take any B. B. B. and the node on her stomach ate through the cavity. She continued on the decline and wasted away, and finally died. These were two terrible cases of blood poisoning—one used B. B. B. and was speedily cured—the other did not use it and died. It is most assuredly a most wonderful blood purifier. I refer to merchants of this town.

Yours truly,
T. ROBINSON.
Tishabee, Ala., May 1, 1886.

A Sheriff Released.

For a period of sixteen years I have been afflicted with catarrh of the head which baffled the use of all medicines used. Seeing the advertisement of B. B. B., I purchased and used six or seven bottles, and although used irregularly have received great relief, and recommend it as a great blood purifier.

NO SPECULATION, But a Safe Investment.

"Our doubts are traitors,
And make us lose the good we oft might win,
By fearing to attempt."

We often hear the lamentations of those who visited St. Paul six years ago and failed to invest, because they thought it would not grow much more. But stronger still will be the vain regrets of those who have a little money now, and fail to invest it here, because they have been so unfortunate as not to see St. Paul. The country is just beginning to realize what St. Paul had done in late years, and what a future it has before it. There is no city in the Union with its size, business and future prospects, where property is near as cheap.

The following comparative statement of real estate values, obtained from leading conservative agencies in the respective cities, during April, 1887, speaks for itself.

	Population.	Highest Price per front Foot. Business Property.	Residence.	Highest Adjoining Average per acre.
Chicago	750,000	$6,000	$700	$7,000
Buffalo	240,000	3,000	350	2,000
Cleveland	227,000	3,500	500	1,500
Milwaukee	165,000	1,500	200	3,000
Detroit	155,000	2,000	300	3,000
Minneapolis	140,000	2,000	300	3,500
St. Paul	140,000	1,200	300	2,000
Kansas City	105,000	3,500	300	5,000
Indianapolis	90,000	800	150	200
Omaha	78,000	1,200	150	5,000
Toledo	50,000	1,100	100	1,000
Duluth	20,000	1,000	100	1,500

The "Twin Cities," St. Paul and Minneapolis are only ten miles apart from centre to centre; have only about five miles of a partly vacant space between them, and have a common corporation line between them. These cities, which in 1880 had only 41,000 and 46,000 inhabitants respectively, have now 140,000, possibly nearer 150,000 each, and the tide of immigration is pouring in faster than ever. Considerably more than one-third of the immigration of this country finds a home in the territory immediately tributary to

ST. PAUL'S IMMENSE TRADE.

Nineteen railroads run into the city, ten of these being big trunk lines, making it

The Third Railroad Centre in the United States.

The completion this year of the Minneapolis, Sault Ste Marie and Atlantic Road will give it direct communication with New York, independent of Chicago, and will put it one hundred miles nearer the Atlantic coast.

At the head of Navigation on the Mississippi,

And only one hundred miles from Lake Superior, it can laugh at the terrors of the inter-State Commerce Law. The rich country all around is filling up more and more, and new railroads are springing into existence with wonderful rapidity, making still larger fields for its already immense wholesale trade. Its great manufactures are daily increasing, and it is rapidly becoming the centre of the STOCK-YARD AND PACKING INDUSTRIES.

There are more millionaires here than in any city of twice its size on the Continent. All the causes that have for the last five years operated to make St. Paul a great city, are working more strongly than ever, and being in the centre of the richest and most rapidly developing part of the United States, St. Paul and Minneapolis

WILL SOON BE ONE IMMENSE CITY.

"By every argument that can be drawn from the past, by every present material condition, by the certain promise of the city's situation and surroundings, by every proof which has been tried in the experience of city growth, St. Paul feels assured that the era of prosperity now upon the city is to witness changes more astounding and more satisfying than those which have already made it the wonder and admiration of all, whose good fortune it has been to visit the city and in a measure become acquainted with her institutions."

We have a large number of Southern customers, and all their investments have either been sold out at a large profit, in some cases

Three Hundred per Cent. per Annum,

Or have largely advanced in value. An investment made with moderate judgment here is sure to net the owner from 25 TO 100 PER CENT. PER ANNUM.

SAM. D. JOHNSON & CO.,

WILL OPEN THEIR

Fall and Winter Novelties in Dress Goods,

ON

TUESDAY, SEPT., 13, 1887.

219 St. Clair street.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. Sam. Luscher offering a reward for his stray cow.

Attention is called to the notice of the dissolution of the firm of Z. T. Collins & Co., in this issue of our paper.

Mrs. Mary F. Fennell, only sister of Mrs. W. H. Hall, of this city, died at her home in Cynthia on Sunday, after an illness of several weeks with malarial fever.

The children talk it, grown folks think it, and chickens die for it—Ganter's Chicken Cholera Cure. Sold "no-cure-no-pay" by LeCompte & Carpenter.

The FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT comes laden, each week, with all the local news to be found "round about the State Capital."—Sentinel-Democrat.

Thank you, friend Havens. That's what we are here for.

A communication in the Georgetown Times comes to our rescue and maintains the correctness of our statement that there are ten turnpikes running into, or in process of construction into the Stamping Ground. We guess we will have to re-assert our first proposition. Hurrah for the P., G. & F. railroad.

The following is the score of the Spring Hill Gun Club, at the shoot on Friday evening, Sept. 2, viz:

R. Morris	24
R. Church	23
G. L. Payne	23
John Mastin	22
Dr. J. L. Price	22
J. N. Abrams	21
Sam R. Smith	21
G. T. Church	18
G. F. Berry	13

Mr. Richard Morris wears the medal.

A child of Joe Baker, of color, was on the street on Tuesday, and was taken with a spasm of coughing, the effect of whooping cough. The little fellow went into the house continuing to cough until he strangled to death.

The long prayed for and much needed rain commenced falling on Wednesday morning about five o'clock. It continued to shower most of the day. We hope now that the drouth is over and that the farmers will have good fall pasturage secured.

The Original Nashville Students, who are just closing a season of one month in this city, have been remarkably successful, both in giving a pleasant entertainment and in drawing crowded houses; they do give the most original and unique concert ever given by a jubilee party.—Chicago Tribune.

Opera House, Sept. 15th.

We would very respectfully call the attention of Col. L. L. Conway, Street Commissioner, to the condition of Second street in front of the Dudley Institute. It is the usual place of comfort for a number of the Lords of the City—yclept hogs. They daily take their ease and bathe in the liquid slime that accumulates there.

We regret to see the announcement in the daily papers that the Messrs. Chas. Stewart Paper Co., of Cincinnati, made an assignment on Tuesday. After an acquaintance of nine years with the house, we can safely say that no more clever gentlemen than those composing the firm were ever in business in the Queen City, and we hope they may be on their feet again.

We hope that Judge Lindsay, Judge Duvall, Gen. Lindsey and Col. Stoddard Johnston will put in a few good strokes in the campaign now going on in Scott county. Scott is the pivotal county, and needs only a thorough arousing to make success sure and beyond a doubt. These are the gentlemen that can help our friends there to an assured victory. We know they will do so if possible.

The large stables of Mr. C. L. Bailey, at Midway, containing eighteen head of fine horses and a full supply of provender, were destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last. The fire was discovered by a colored woman, who lives near by, who ran into the stable with a knife and cut quite a number of the horses loose, and succeeded in driving twelve of them out. The rest became uncontrollable and refused to leave the stable and were, consequently, destroyed. We have not learned the extent of the loss or whether there was any insurance.

The Colored Lodge of Odd Fellows, of this city, celebrated their 16th Anniversary, on Saturday last, by a grand parade and basket picnic at Brown's Woods. It was attended by several Lodges and Patriarchies from other places. The street parade was quite a handsome affair—the beautiful uniforms of the several Patriarchies being a special feature. The music was furnished by Bailey's Cornet Band, of Georgetown, and was, as usual, very fine. The speaking was eloquent and entertaining. This Lodge deserves great credit for the success which crowned the occasion.

Base-Ball.

The base-ball game on Saturday, last, was a regular walk-over for the home boys. They commenced to run up scores in the first inning, and kept it up until they were tired. In the fourth inning, Shepherd of the Frankforts, began to catch for the Lexingtons, their catcher taking his place in the field; and, in the fifth, Hudson tried his hand at pitching for the Frankforts, while Frank Buttmer quit, his place being supplied by some one in the crowd. But even then the Lexingtons could not score, and they gave it up in the sixth. Their one run was made in the first inning. The total score was Frankfort 14, Lexington 1. Merchant pitched an excellent game, only four or five hits being made off his delivery in the four innings he was in the box.

Hurrah for our boys! Now let's do up the Louisvilles. If they can be induced to come up, our club can give them some fun, at any rate, and we predict that the crowd would be tremendous. The last time the Louisvilles played here there were more than a thousand people on the grounds, and at that time the Frankforts had no such record to back them up as they have made this season. What say you, Mr. Manager, to challenging them for the first off day on their return from the East?

We understand that Mrs. Mary Brown Day will be a candidate for the position of State Librarian before the next Legislature. This is the first lady to cast her glove into the ring, but their name will be legion by the time the General Assembly convenes.

Considerable excitement was created on our streets Wednesday afternoon by the report that natural gas had been struck in the well being bored on the farm of Mr. James A. Murray, below the city, and that it had rushed out with such force as to blow down the derrick. At once there was a rush in that direction, when it was found that the workmen had poured coal cinders into the well to pack the iron casing at the bottom to prevent water from rising in it, and had thus stopped up the bottom of the casing. While engaged in bailing out the well with the sand bucket, the water which had collected in the bottom of the hole forced the casing out of position and caused it to rise until it struck the top of the derrick, 70 feet in the air. The incident caused consternation among the workmen for a time, but as soon as they discovered what was the matter the casing was forced back and the drill again started. They are still pecking away day and night, and it is to be hoped they will soon find gas in paying quantities.

Little Bessie, infant daughter of Mr. Claude Buckley, died Thursday afternoon at the home of her parents, in Lexington, after a brief illness of thirty-six hours with acute laryngitis. The remains were brought to this city yesterday afternoon and interred in the family lot in the Cemetery.

The Louisville Commercial of Thursday predicts a coal famine, as there is only a three weeks' supply on hand in that city.

See advertisement of Mrs. Gabriella Yeager offering house and lot for sale.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, SEPTEMBER 10, 1887.

Smoke the White Wing Cigar, at LeCompte & Carpenter's. 37-6m

Navigation will be closed for thirty days on the Kentucky river, September 15th, on account of repairs to Locks Nos. 1 and 2.

The Superior Court opened the fall term on Monday. Presiding Judge Bowden and Judges Ward and Barbour being on the bench.

The residence of Mr. Thomas Rodman, jr., was sold by Commissioner Posey, on Monday, to Col. J. W. Tate, for $5,600.

Mr. Wm. McEwan is laying the foundation for a frame cottage on Main street, between Third and Cross.

Mrs. M. W. Wilhoit will shortly commence the erection of a frame residence on Clinton street near the corner of High.

Wm. Neimier was before Judge Sneed, on Tuesday, for a plain drunk and disorderly, and was fined $1 and costs, a total of $6.75.

The soldiers of the Louisville Legion, who have been in the State of Rowan for some month or so, passed down on the C. & O. train, on Sunday afternoon, on their way home. We hope that this will be the last time that soldiers will be sent to that county.

The grocery store of Mr. Hiram Penn, on the Flat Creek pike in this county, was totally destroyed by fire, together with its contents, on Monday night last. Loss $500, covered by insurance in the City of London, C. F. Exum, agent.

The Governor has signed the death warrant of James (alias Tuck) Agee, who murdered a man by the name of Falconer, in Lexington. He is to be hung on Friday, November 4, the Court of Appeals having affirmed the decision of the Fayette Circuit Court.

The Bourbon Fair has been going on this week and will close today. We hope that, by the time the next fair is held there, the P., G. & F. railroad will be running to that city, so that we may have a special train to carry our people to the fair, as is usually done to the Lexington fair. Hurrah for the P., G. & F. railroad!

A quartette of hoodlums from Shelby county undertook to raise Cain, on Second street, near the City School, on Monday night. They were whooping, fighting, throwing rocks and swearing at a terrible rate. Officers J. T. Larkin and John Dean attempted to reason with them, but without avail. The officers then put them under arrest. In attempting to carry them to the work house one of the men, by the name of Jeff Britton, drew a knife and attempted to carve officer Larkin; but was quieted by the timely application of an ax-handle in the hands of that officer.

The parties were arraigned before Judge Sneed, on Tuesday morning, and fined as follows: Jeff Britton, fine and costs, $26; Remus Britton, $16; Joseph Sleuscher, $11; W. H. Lacy, $11. Jeff. paid his fine, but the others were turned over to the tender mercies of the work-house keeper.

Mr. T. P. Grasty, jr., of the Arkansas Traveller, is in the city and is writing up her history as one of the cities of the Blue Grass section.

Maud S. surprised her owner, Mr. Bonner, and her jockey, Mr. Murphy, by trotting the last quarter of a 2:17 mile in 30 seconds, on Saturday last.

The Court of Appeals convened for the fall term on Monday. Chief Justice Pryor and Judges Lewis, Holt and Bennett, the full bench, being present.

The grip of summer is hard to loosen. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were very warm days, the mercury climbing up toward the nineties.

The usual crowd was in town on Monday, attending county court. The auctioneers were kept fairly busy, but prices of stock ruled low. The drouth has made many of our farmers and country people very long-faced. They say that, if it does not rain very soon, the fall pasturage will be a failure, and they will have to commence feeding their stock right away.

The Courier-Journal stated, one day last week, that there was a new disease here among the cattle and the people of this city did not know what it was. Dr. D. W. Henry, veterinary surgeon, wishes that paper to understand that the people do know what it is, as it is nothing more than "pink eye," and it has become an epidemic in this locality.

At a meeting of the Frankfort Literary Society, held on Thursday evening, September 1st, the following officers were elected: Capt. Sam. Gaines, president; Dr. Sam. E. James, vice president; Wm. Cromwell, secretary and treasurer. The next meeting of the Society will be held at the Court House on Thursday evening next, the 15th inst. A splendid programme has been arranged for the evening.

There is great complaint among the citizens of South Frankfort about women, who are sent to the Work-house, being placed at work upon rock-piles in the streets of that part of the city. The yard of the Work-house is certainly large enough for this class of offenders to be employed in it, and the City Council should require the keeper of that institution to confine them there. It is an outrage upon decency to allow this sort of thing, and it should be remedied at once.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Chas. R. Gresham, of this city, was summoned to the bedside of her brother, Mr. Walter Gibbs, near Gogginsville, Georgia, and in a few days thereafter he breathed his last. Sunday afternoon Mr. Gresham received a telegram from his wife conveying the sad intelligence that her sister, Miss Felicia Gibbs, who spent the winter in this city two years ago, had also died of the same disease, typhoid fever. Mrs. Gresham has the deepest sympathy of a large circle of friends in her double bereavement.

LATER.—A letter received from Mrs. Gresham on Thursday announces the fact that her mother is now lying at the point of death with the same disease. Truly this is a sorely afflicted family.

The K. M. I.—What Shall Become of It?

The Kentucky Military Institute, which has for years stood in the front rank of the institutions of learning in this State, has been sold, and the probabilities are that it will not open its doors in the future as a school for young men. The question arises—will our citizens stand idly by and not make an effort to prevent this magnificent property, so well adapted to school purposes, being converted to other uses? If there is one thing this city needs badly it is a first-class male school—one at which our boys can finish their educations after they have completed the course at the Public School, without being compelled to go away from home.

The Kentucky Military Institute has a reputation second to none throughout the south, from which section a large share of its patronage has come in the past, and with the counties south of us, which are without such a school, to draw upon, in the hands of a first-class Superintendent, who would manage it properly, it certainly could be made a paying institution.

Large sums of money have been distributed in this community annually through the medium of this school, not only to a few but to all our merchants, and its absence will be sensibly felt in the business of this city. It is splendidly located, being only a short drive from the city—just far enough to remove boys from evil influence—and is almost certain to be on the line of the Louisville Southern railroad, should it be extended to this place, and is one of the most healthful localities in the State. The gentlemen who have purchased it have done so simply as an investment, and of course will dispose of it to the best advantage. It may be sold for a private residence, unless an effort is made to preserve it for its present purposes, and our citizens deprived of a first-class school for their boys at their very doors. Besides it will add materially to the business of the city to have a flourishing school at that point. Let our citizens think of this matter and devise some means to perpetuate this time honored institution of learning.

The P., G. & F. Railroad Company makes a semi-official proposition to Montgomery county. It is this: If the county will subscribe $150,000 to the road, buy the Coal Road at a cost not exceeding $50,000 and turn it over to the P., G. & F. Railroad the company will agree to run its main line through Mt. Sterling. If the Railroad and Improvement Committee, or other persons, think this proposition worth considering they can get at this office the names of the proposers.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.

We hope this road will be run through Mt. Sterling. That city will certainly be a big one some of these days, and that in the near future.

Master Commissioner Posey, of the Circuit Court, sold the Kentucky Military Institute, together with all its appurtenances, on Monday (county court day), to Messrs. Crutcher & Starks for $10,125.

The furniture, chemical laboratory, library, &c., of the Institute were sold on the premises Tuesday, and brought good prices, the greater portion being purchased by Messrs. Crutcher & Starks.

Public Meeting.

The citizens of Frankfort and Franklin county are invited and requested to meet at the courthouse in Frankfort at 3 o'clock, p. m., on Monday, 12th inst., for the purpose of selecting ten delegates to represent the county in the State Industrial Conference, to be held at Louisville on the 4th day of October, 1887.

J. STODDARD JOHNSTON,
D. W. LINDSEY,
M. D. AVERILL,
W. H. LEWIS,

Committee.

At a meeting of the Frankfort Literary Society, held Sept. 1st, '87, at the law office of Mr. Frank Johnson, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing term, after Col. John L. Scott had asked to be excused for a time from the labors of presiding over the Society, on motion of Mr. Hal. Corbett, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Society are hereby tendered to Col. John L. Scott as a fit recognition of his services as President of the Society, whose untiring energy, rare talents and uniform courtesy contributed so largely to the organization and successful progress of the Society; and the Secretary is directed to furnish a copy of this resolution to Col. Scott.

A copy attest.

WM. CROMWELL,
Secretary Pro Tem.

We do not know who is to blame, and that is immaterial, but we do say that it is a shame that the Frankfort Brass Band was not employed to furnish the music for the inauguration. It is our home band and this was understood to be a home demonstration. The money to pay all expenses was furnished by Frankfort people, as we understand it. Our boys can and do make as good music as any band.

We hear a great deal from some people about things here being behind other places. But just let any one start an enterprise (anything, it matters not, that will advance our city), and just so certain are there some people to belittle and slight it. They grumble about the goods in the stores—they are not select enough, the assortments to choose from are not large enough, the prices are too high, &c., &c.—and yet these same people will slip off some where else and pay more, transportation included, than they would have to pay here for the same articles. They will not help Frankfort merchants if they can help it, and, at the same time, they are making their own living out of the Frankfort people. We believe in the old doctrine of "live and let live." Patronize home institutions, stand up for home people, help home enterprises, and thus make our town one great family of loving and prosperous people.

To return to our text, if you want music, employ your home band.

Little Miss Cordie Kendall came very near meeting a violent death on Wednesday evening. She was crossing Broadway street, on her way home, when the horses attached to a two-horse huckster wagon became frightened at a passing locomotive, the driver could not control them, and they dashed down the street striking Cordie and knocking her under the wheels, which passed squarely across her stomach. She was taken home and physicians called in. Strange to say, beyond considerable bruising, she sustained no very serious injury as far as developed up to the present.

Nature's Own True Laxative.

The delicious flavor and healthy properties of sound, ripe fruit are well known, and seeing the need of an agreeable and effective laxative the California Fig Syrup Co. commenced a few years ago to manufacture a concentrated Syrup of Figs which has given such general satisfaction that it is rapidly superseding the bitter drastic liver medicines and cathartics hitherto in use. If costive or bilious try it. For sale in 50 cent and $1 bottles by Chapman & Gayle. 52-1m.

Among the Colored Citizens.

BY MR. PLEASE EVERYBODY.

Mrs. G. H. Burks and children, who have been visiting their mother and grandmother, in southwestern Kentucky and Missouri, ever since June 20th, have returned to the city looking very well, after having passed through a scourge of chills and fever.

The ladies social will meet at Mrs. M. Halleck's to-night.

Isaac Bryant, aged nearly a hundred years, died August 30th, 1887. He was 62 years of age, long ago, and was the father of 17 children, and grandfather of 48.

Elder P. Harris, of Tennessee, will preach at St. John's A. M. E. Church to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Come out and hear him, for he is a fine pulpit orator and gospel preacher.

Elder Burks desires that all of the members of St. John's A. M. E. Church will turn out to-morrow, as it will be his last Sunday with them this Conference year.

There will be a Tom Webber indignation meeting held at Big Bethel Baptist Church, on Monday night, Sept. 12. It is hoped that every colored man in the city will be present.

Rev. G. H. Burks will leave Monday for Conference.

The colored public school opened up Monday morning with 400 pupils, and about 500 more roaming the streets.

The celebration by the Odd Fellows, last Saturday, was the most attractive display of the kind this season, the inauguration of the Governor not excepted. They were addressed by T. Augustus Reid, of Paris, Ky., on the "Philosophy of Odd Fellowship—its origin, ethics and success."

Miss Belle Weathers and Miss Fannie Buckner, of Louisville, were very nicely entertained on night this week by Miss Lucy T. Moore.

The Missionary Society of St. John's A. M. E. Church has done very good work this Conference year. The last meeting for the year was held Wednesday evening, and was very interesting and successful. The society was addressed by the President, E. W. Lane, L. T. Clark, B. F. Sayre, and others, while some of the old moss back members were off somewhere holding a Lodge meeting as usual. That is, they tell their wives that they have been to the Lodge, but we understand them too well. Oh! what a Lodge meeting they had.

Louisa Washington, aged 14 years, died with consumption Sept. 2d, 1887.

Children

Often need some safe cathartic and tonic to avert approaching sickness or to relieve colic, head ache, sick stomach, indigestion, dysentery and the complaints incident to childhood. Let the children take Simmons' Liver Regulator and keep well. It is purely vegetable, not unpleasant to the taste and safe to take alone or in connection with other medicine. Twelve Years of Terrible Torture.

The gentleman who furnished us with the following certificate was for years under the treatment of many physicians, and was dosed with all sorts of medicines, but without the least beneficial effects. Now, how he was finally cured and relieved from his internal suffering, is forcibly told in his own statement given below, to which we invite the earnest attention of all sufferers from this dread affliction:

"I had been a tortured sufferer from articular and sciatic rheumatism for more than a dozen years—up to the year 1885. I had consulted various doctors and used multiform remedies without relief, or any apparent benefit. In 1885 I was taken afresh with the severest acute symptoms of this disease, in my feet and legs and hips, which made me a helpless invalid—unable to work or walk or help myself in any way. I was miserable, helpless suffering, and without hope of ever being cured. I had already exhausted my faith in doctor's remedies, and now concluded to take Swift's Specific as a last hope.

"From the use of the first two bottles, I felt greatly benefited, which encouraged me to continue its use. I steadily improved. The inflammation left my joints, the sciatica disappeared, comfortable feeling was restored, my strength and flesh reinstated, and by the time I had taken two dozen bottles all my symptoms of rheumatism had entirely disappeared, and I felt well enough to resume my regular labors. I felt like a new man. I cannot attribute my miraculous and perfect cure to anything but the Swift Pacific. I know that it alone cured me, for nothing else had done me any good for twelve years. I owe my restoration and strength for labor and religious duties alone to this grand remedy, and gladly make this statement for the benefit of all sufferers from this most torturing disease—rheumatism.

Useful and Harmful Medicines.
There is a certain class of remedies for constipation absolutely useless. These are boluses and potions made in great part of hydropathic, aloes, rhubarb, gamboge, and other worthless ingredients. The damage they do to the stomachs of those who use them is incalculable. They enfeeble the bowels, it is true, but always do so violently and profusely, and hence they produce their effect by to weaken both them and the stomach. Better far to use the agreeable and salutary standard medicine, the laxative effect of which is never produced by any tonic or cathartic, but by a constructive, violent action of the bowels. On the contrary, the laxative effect of the bowels, the stomach and the entire system. As a means of curing and preventing all fevers, no medicine can compare with it, and it remedies nervous debility, rheumatism, kidney and bladder weakness, and other morbid ailments.

CONSTIPATION

It is called the "Father of Diseases," because there is no medicine through which disease so often attacks the system as by the agency of a poisonous gases in the retention of decayed and effete matter in the stomach and bowels. It is caused by a torpid liver, not enough bile being excreted from the blood to produce Nature's own cathartic, and is generally accompanied with such results as

Loss of Appetite,
Sick Headache,
Bad Breath, etc.

The treatment of Constipation does not consist merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but as a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. To secure a regular habit of bowels, and thus to keep the diet or disorganizing the system

"My attention, after suffering with Constipation for two or three years, was called to Simmons' Liver Regulator, and having tried almost everything else, concluded to try it. I first took a wineglassful and afterwards reduced the dose to a teaspoonful, as per directions on each bottle. I found that it had done me so much good that I continued to use it until I took two bottles. Since then I have not experienced any difficulty. I keep it in my house and would not be without it, but have no use for it, as I have cured me.—Geo. W. Sims, Asst. Clerk Superior Court, Bibb Co., Ga.

That New County.

Some time since it was reported that there was a movement on the part of certain portions of this county looking to the formation of a new county out of parts of Henry, Franklin and Shelby counties. Certain correspondents of our paper from that region bitterly denied it, and none more strenuously than Dr. J. C. Wilson, in a letter from Harp. Now comes the following notice, which is posted on the court-house door of this county:

"Whom the Gods would destroy, They first make mad."

The folly of this move is manifest to all cool and level-headed men, and we doubt whether it would meet the approval of even a majority of those in the region most interested.

Here is the notice:

NOTICE.

To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that there will be presented to the next General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, when convened at Frankfort, session of 1887-'8, a petition to organize a new county out of parts of Shelby, Franklin and Henry counties, to be bounded as follows:

Beginning at a point in the Kentucky river opposite the mouth of Pot Ripple Creek and running a direct line to the mouth of Banta's Fork; thence up Banta's Fork as it meanders to its source; thence a direct line to a point on the old Louisville and Lexington Railroad opposite the old house of Josh Lyle; thence with the line of said railroad to the old Christiansburg depot; thence a direct line to a point on the Bagdad and Harrisonville turnpike opposite the house of Robert Owens; thence south with said turnpike to Peytona; thence a direct line to North-Benson Baptist Church; thence direct to Wm. Smith's, near Stoney Creek; thence direct to Bledsoe's, on Stoney Creek; thence down Stoney Creek to its mouth; thence down Kentucky River to the beginning.

There was another theater horror, which rivals the famous Richmond horror of the long ago, at Exeter, England, on Monday night last. During the performance of "Romany Rye," the theater took fire and a panic ensued, which resulted in a huge mass of people becoming wedged in the exit from the gallery, and were literally roasted alive. One hundred and thirty dead bodies had been removed from the ruins up to this writing and many more are supposed to have perished. It seems there was but one exit from the gallery and that a very narrow and badly constructed one. Will those who build houses of public amusement never learn to provide proper means of exit therefrom?

Judge W. H. Holt returned last week from a visit to Kearney, Kansas, where he invested $13,250 in real estate. The place two years ago had less than 1,000 inhabitants, but to-day has a population of 8,000, the streets are lighted with electric lights, and street railroads are being built. The town is on a boom, and the Judge thinks his investments will prove very valuable.

An aged couple, Mr. James Penn and Miss Mary Frances Cox, procured license from the county clerk and were duly sworn in to do duty in the State of matrimony. Groom 72, bride 64. Next.

Several of our best correspondents' letters are unavoidably crowded out.

Master Commissioner W. H. Posey sold on Monday the house, lot and stable of the late John Henderson, on Clinton and High streets, and two sandbars lying on the river, to Mrs. J. C. Rogers, for $4,178.

He also sold the following property: The Stedman Mill property, at Stedman, to Griff Stedman, for $3,082.60.

The property of Willis Price, on Clin' a street, to Lucinda Price, for $350.

As this is the season of the year when persons are more liable to be bitten by animals suffering from hydrophobia than at other times, we think it important that it should be known where the celebrated mad stones can be found. We are reliably informed that Mrs. Anna Forsee, at Peak's Mill, has one, and that there are one or two more in that neighborhood.

Obituary.

Almost every week we read of the death of some loved one. It is with profound sorrow we record the death of Miss SEBASTIAN RAYMOND, which occurred at 3 o'clock, at her residence in St. Louis, Frankfort, where she was married a few short months ago to Mr. T. Walker Raymond, in Shelby county, and the happy young couple removed to this city a short time after to reside. But alas! how soon all their hopes were blighted! As a rule the living are wont to bestow lavish praise upon their deceased friends after they are laid away to rest. However, in the present instance, as an intimate friend of the deceased, the writer may truly say the subject of this brief sketch was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her, on account of superior amiability and womanly virtues. As a sister, she moved as the central orb around her sisters. As a friend, she was self-sacrificing and true. As a wife, she was affectionate and devoted. Hence her loss is the more keenly felt by all, and particularly her devoted husband, who, with untiring watchfulness and self-sacrifice, watched by her bedside till the end came. As a Christian, she was sincere. Her sufferings were the most intense ever witnessed, yet borne with Christian fortitude and resignation. To her sisters and now lonely husband we would say: Weep not. Suffer in rest, safe in the arms of Jesus, where her loved father and mother had gone before. Follow in her footsteps, and look forward with bright anticipations to a happy re-union in that sweet where parting shall never be.

She has from earth a sweet release. Has gone to the realms above. To live by and with Christ, in infinite love.

A FRIEND.

Religious.

The regular services at the Methodist Church to-morrow morning, at 11 o'clock, are the last of the Conference year. Rev. G. C. Kelley, D. D., leaves Tuesday morning to attend Conference.

Rev. George Darsie, of Boston, began a protracted meeting at the Christian Church on Wednesday evening, and has been greeted each evening with large congregations. There has been one addition to the church so far. Mr. Darsie has always been popular with all denominations here, and our people have given him a warm welcome to his old home.

Kentucky Conference meets in Covington on Wednesday, and the Methodist Church in this city have requested that body to return Rev. G. C. Kelley, D. D., to the charge for another year, which will be his last, he having been there for three years.

Lewis county has also been booming under the labors of Bros. Mavity and Utterback. Bro. Utterback, or judge, as "the boys" in the Bible College say, has surprised his best friends and greatly delighted Bro. Mavity. He says he (Bro. U.) has a big head full of common sense, and a big heart full of love. We think that some church is to be fortunate in securing his labors when he completes his college course next June. This is another refutation of the charge that an educated man can not do anything in the mountains.—Apostolic Guide.

The Bro. U. referred to is Tyler C. Utterback, who has been preaching for two months in Lewis county, and has had ninety additions to the church.

Lost.—August 30, in the ballroom, or in the Capital Hotel, frosted gold ear-rings, shape of buttercup with diamond set in the center. Finder by returning to this office will be well rewarded. 52-1f.

FOR RENT.—Three nice rooms, on first floor. Apply to Mrs. M. R. Ways. 52-1f.

Should you want a nice Surrey, Buggy, Saddle or set of Harness, see Mastin Bros. 47

MARRIED.

In Cincinnati, on Monday evening, September 3, 1887, at 8:30 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's mother, by the Rev. Dr. D. W. Case, Mr. EDWARD KYLE and Miss MARTIE V. BERRY. The bride is one of the many fair daughters of Franklin county, who, after being residing for several months in Cincinnati, has a large circle of friends, who admire her for her many good qualities of mind and heart, and who wish her a life of happiness and prosperity. Modest, refined and cultivated, added to a sweet disposition, she is a wife of whom any man could feel justly proud.

The groom is one of the rising young men of Indianapolis. Alert, sober and industrious, and possessing a clear head, he will be sure to make his way in the world. He is a young man who has the respect and confidence of all who know him. The happy couple left for Indianapolis, where they will reside, carrying with them the warmest and sincerest congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

May the morning of their lives be as bright as the brilliant September morn of their wedding day, and may no shadow of misfortune fall across their pathway. W. T. C.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Communicated.

FRANKFORT, KY., Sept. 7, '87.
Editor Roundabout:

During the past ten days I have been worried by the accident that happened with our mill and the burning of South's warehouse, in which we had stored about 12,000 bushels of wheat, and, to get my mind running in other channels, and relieved of this anxious care, I thought I would spend an hour this morning scribbling a few lines in answer to Tax-payer's communication in your issue of the 3d. He says he never goes off "half-cocked;" but, before I finish this, whether he admits it or not, the readers of your paper, if they will take the pains to read up and study the points that I have made, will know he has gone off "half-cocked" on every one of them. You will recollect that he charged me with saying Frankfort "voted all the boys, black and white." You will recollect my answer as to this. There is no use quoting what I said, and his reply, and my reply to his reply. The "nail was clinched." He passed it by in silence. I will say to Tax-payer, right here, whenever I am caught I will not pass it by, but own up like a "little man." Now did he not go off "half-cocked" on point No. 1?

You will remember a point he made, which I will jot down as point No. 2. That it was "unfair, unjust and contrary to every principle of right for a non-property holder to vote a tax on a property holder." You and your readers will remember what I had to say on this point. Here is his reply: "We now come to the 'balderdash' about a property qualification in voting taxes. All we have to say on this is that we must agree to disagree. Wise men, you know, sometimes differ." I have no doubt it is nonsense in his estimation. "WISE MEN" sometimes differ. What I said is nonsense—this is the definition of "balderdash." I do not wish to be sarcastic, or even inclined in that direction, but would you not infer he is the wise man, and I the nonsensical—what I said was not worth replying to.

Now comes point No. 3. In Tax-payers' letter, July 27th, he says: "What have the people to pay their taxes with? Wheat and corn below the price of production, and other things in proportion." Two tax-gatherers to one year. In my reply to this I said, near the close of my letter of date Aug. 24th, "I should not have written one word on this tax question had it not been for putting a wrong construction on what I have written, and as I am trying to 'right every thing that is going wrong,' was compelled to notice it."

In reply to this, which I number point 3, in my letter of the 24th, I said: "There is no law for the collection of taxes twice in the year." This is the charge Tax-payer made. I showed he was wrong, without a doubt, but he goes off, and says, I "come forward in defense of Auditor Hewitt, and as the poor man's friend in his right to the franchise upon all questions. He and his friend 'True Tax-payer' come suddenly to the conclusion that the writer would have the tax paid fifteen days before the assessment. I think the two must have had a talk together, otherwise I cannot see how they came to the same conclusion, unless it be that great minds sometimes run in the same channel." Now I ask you to get your issue of Aug. 27th and read if "True Tax-payer" said anything about the taxes being paid fifteen days before the assessment. You will find he did not. Besides, I had no talks with him and I do not know him. Now what about the "half-cocked" question?

I will say, right here, about defending Hewitt, I never had such a thought. You will observe, Tax-payer goes off and tries to get me into the defense of Hewitt by harping on the "Auditor's Agent act." This I have nothing to write about, but will say if he goes off "half-cocked" in this, as he has on all the other points, he is "badly left." I suppose Hewitt can take care of himself. I am certain he has never called on me to defend him.

Tax-payer reminds me of the man who is in the habit of getting "tight." He will declare he has not tasted a "drop," but he thinks every one else is drunk. He says, on the "half-cocked" question, "we have been careful, all our lives, not to be guilty of doing such a thing." After reading what he has to say below, I doubt whether he ever was "whole-cocked" in his life. He says, "we say to friend Miles, now don't go off 'half-cocked' as you did when you said, in one of your first articles, 'Frankfort is your boss and we intend to rule you,' having reference to the county." I will give him the credit of saying he made this quotation from memory, and further says: "Do you want to antagonize the county? We do not believe you represent the people of Frankfort when you used that expression, but if you do we then say 'let the fustian sound and the timbrel ring.'"

I will now quote, word for word, what I did say, which has caused this battle cry. In your issue of July 13th, in my letter from Jett, Ky., I said: "These same parties have voted taxes on Frankfort twenty years or more, for all their wants—thousands upon thousands of dollars every year—and the first thing we ask for they say we are a lot of thieves and robbers, abuse and vilify us, and threaten us. I am glad to say that the whole of the county is not in this shape—but a certain section of it, with some few individuals in other portions of it. But they have got to learn—and had as well do it first as last—Frankfort from this date on is awake. She is a unit—that Frankfort and Franklin county are one family. Frankfort is the boss. She has made up her mind to rule the household. She is going to rule in love—rule for the good of the whole family. Her decision is final. The children must submit."

Now, Mr. Editor, you and your readers can see as plainly as you can see the nose on a man's face, he did not quote me correctly. It is no excuse to say he quoted from memory. He should not have quoted from memory. I will say, right here, I did not use the word "boss" in my letter, but the word "daddy." The proof was never submitted to me. Why the proof-readers changed it I know not; but still it amounts to nothing. The "daddy" is the "boss" of the family. If he is not he should be, the world over. After reading what I said, and the construction put on it by Tax-payer, you are bound to say he went off "half-cocked."

I do not intend to argue this tax question, but, from the reading of Tax-payer's articles, we gain no information. He quotes no law, but has left the impression that we have to pay two taxes a year, and one to be paid Sept. 1st, or your property is advertised and sold. The taxes are due and payable the 15th of February in each year, and we have until the 1st of September to pay them. If not paid by the 1st of September six per cent. is to be added, but we have until December to pay the amount and six per cent. The taxes of 1886 were due the last of July or first of August. We had until April 1887 to pay them. If we did not pay them in 1886, it was not the fault of the law. If we paid two taxes in 1887, we paid none in 1886. Then why complain?

There never was a law that was just and equal on all. Our taxes this year were enormous, I think, but it never entered my head to abuse Hewitt, the Legislature, the Democratic party, to make a "sore-head" of myself on account of it. I belong to the Democratic party. We are one family. It is not my place, as long as I am a member of the family, because one member of the family should, as I think, do something he should not have done, to abuse the whole family. But I do not start out to defend Hewitt, the Legislature, or the Democratic or Republican parties, but to advise Tax-payer to keep his head more level and keep from going off "half-cocked."

The greatest trouble I see in the new tax law is this, and I believe it to be wrong, we this year were compelled to pay tax on forty or fifty thousand dollars' worth of wheat, for which we borrowed the money from the bank, and the bank held the wheat as collateral. The bank paid tax on it and we paid tax on it. But it is far from me to abuse Hewitt, or whoever might be the author of the bill.

I am in hopes this will be all I will have to say on this or any other of the points raised in this controversy, as it is certainly not pleasant to me.

I will say here, I would never have written one line if I had been quoted correctly. I retract nothing I have written. There is only one writer, J. D. M., who has ever made a quotation correctly, who has pretended to quote anything written by me; hence I have failed to answer them, except in the case of Tax-payer. But knowing him intimately as I do, and having a great desire to get him right and keeping him from going off "half-cocked" I write this.
